PARIS Feb 14 Rochefort has addressed a letter to the Prefect of Police claiming moderate and respectful terms the right to furnish articles to his own journal the Marseillaise without submitting them to examination by the keeper of the prison.

The search for the parties implicated in the alleged conspiracy is continued by the police, and arrests are frequent. Another prosecution has been commenced against La Marseillaise for publishing news.

Mr. Dawes' Figures.

at the financial speech of Mr. Dawes, h has attracted so much attention and the subject both of extravagant enco- and adverse criticism, was materially f the way in many respects is a fact now well established. A few brief statements make this conclusive. Mr. Dawes asserted the estimates of the present administra- for the year 1870 were $331,000,000, and of Johnson for 1869 were only $303,- 00. The fact is that the estimates of tary Boutwell in his annual report were 000,000, or $12,000,000 less than those [illegible] McCulloch, instead of $28,000,- reater, as stated by Mr. Dawes. This was an unfortunate one, and by reason ving made it Mr. Dawes has received the Democrats the doubtful compliment onesty." A further error on his part his omission to credit the Administra- with the payment of the debt and the g of expenditures. His charges were too ing, and he was in too much haste produce them. His errors have pointed out item by item, and a perfect- ain case has been made in favor of the ty, economy and efficiency of the Ad- tration, as compared with the preced- ne. But the speech of Mr. Dawes, it erroneous in some points, has been tive of good. It has called the atten- of all Departments of the Govern- to the necessity of retrenching still fur- nd scrutinizing more closely than ever imates and expenditures. The people d economy, and on its success in this ular the Administration relies for the of the people. The whole case is ed up in the statement that under the revenue collections are larger and penditures of the Government smaller under Johnson. The decrease in the s in itself a sufficient proof of this.

Newspapers and the Mails.

House of Representatives in abolishing anking privilege propose also to abolish e delivery of newspapers through the to regular subscribers within the coun- here they are printed. The smaller of journals which depend mainly upon local support have been greatly bene- by the exemption from postage which ouse now proposes to abolish with the ng privilege. The newspapers of the cities circulate more beyond the county and are delivered at home by newsmen rriers to an extent which makes them ependent upon the facilities of the post The only way in which the proposed uld affect them directly would be in quirement of postage on their free- changes, which would not be a serious n. Inasmuch as no one ever complained exemption of newspapers from postage n the county, it has been inferred that acrity of the House in consenting to this f abolishing the franking privilege was to the fact that it would punish the apers which have forced the House to he step. So far as it has any effect in rection, it will interfere with the circu- of country newspapers, and to that ex- ith the privileges of their readers. But newspaper for which there is a demand and on its own merits and make little ion to paying its fair share of postage.

Editorial Notes

failure of the "ice crop" at the East atter of no little consequence. Ice has e a necessity of civilization, and the f it, especially in the cities, produces as much inconvenience as the failure e of the regular crops of summer.

Governor of California in a recent ge to the Legislature declared that "ab. and unconditional free trade" is one of atures of a true national policy. There ery general attempt at this time to palm ch babbling as this for the utterances of true statesmanship. What nation has "absolute and unconditional free trade?" When did this nation have it? People who are not led away by a blind partisanship generally conceede that a revenue is necessary for the maintenance of a Government.

During the first three weeks of January, Jay Cooke succeeded in obtaining subscriptions to the bonds of the Northern Pacific Railroad to the amount of six millions of dollars. He thinks there will be little difficulty in raising the requisite capital and his success so far would seem to justify this belief.

The New York World lays it down as "quite certain" that "the Democratic party will not make negro suffrage an issue in the next national canvass." It advises sharp practice to obtain the negro vote, and tells the Southern Democrats to exert among them "all the influence of employers over employees, and all the influence of creditors over debtors." The World seems to think this is justifiable stratlegy and honorable dealing.

Congressman Smith of Oregon in a recent speech, (which was not exactly a speech, but a "piece" which he obtained permission to print in the Globe), had much to say about the "heresy of secession." The honorable gentleman is coming along about ten years behind the times. But it is gratifying to observe that he has discovered, even so late, that secession is a "heresy," since it is a fact that he had no knowledge of it when he was making speeches in Oregon in 1862 and 1864. We are glad to find in a speech of Mr. Smith's, even at this late day, an indication that he thinks the rebellion a thing to blush for.

Newspaper Topics.

The Call thinks the hitch in the California Legislature on the "Chinese question" is attributable to the probability that the Chinese companies have bought up the Legislature! A very plausible supposition, for it certainly has become evident that after all the noise made on the subject there will be no anti-Chinese legislation in California.

The Salem Press thinks Senator Williams a "repudiator," because he has introduced a resolution in the Senate to authorize the Secretary of the Treasury to redeem greenbacks, when presented at the Treasury, by paying $1 00 in gold for $1 20 in paper. It would [illegible] the Press is anxious to force the holder of greenbacks to take for them more than the market price and more than he demands.

The Commercial is publishing a series of articles entitled "Repudiation Considered," which read very much like a protest against the anticipated action of the Democratic party of Oregon on this subject. The editor shows forcibly the "injury which a formidable opposition to the payment of the debt will [illegible] the [illegible]" and de- [illegible] in the Herald who has asserted that a large part of the debt of the Revolution was repudiated.

Some of our Democratic editors are cultivating elegant literature. For instance, the Eugene Guard, with great delicacy of expression, says that "the action of the New York Legislature in rescinding the Fifteenth Amendment has set the mongrel papers to howling like dogs;" and the Portland Herald with even greater refinement, characterizes President Grant as "a gambler, a liar and a thief." We have heard of people cultivating literature on a little oatmeal, but these writers are evidently cultivating it on stronger food.

POLITICAL ITEMS.

There is a hint from Washington that next her foreign mission will soon be at the disposal of the administration. Governor Curtin does not like the climate at St. Petersburg, and is thinking of coming home to contest Senator Cameron's seat with him in the next election.

Judge Chase's appeals in favor of the fifteenth amendment were apparently what carried it through the Ohio Legislature; and the regular Democrats are violently abusive of him for his interference, and intimate that they will pay him off with interest when he attempts, again, to become their party's candidate for the Presidency.

A Seattle paper learns that "Hon. B. F. Dennison will address the citizens of Seattle and vicinity at some time during the present week, on the condition of the Republican party of the Territory." It is a good subject. Dennison and Flanders think they are the "Republican party of the Territory," and their "condition" at present is one which is well calculated to open the fountains of tearful eloquence.

Democratic orators were wont to endeavor to appal us with frightful pictures of a horde of negroes advancing northward and driving white labor out of the field. This, they said, would be one of the most fatal consequences of the radical policy of emancipation. Unhappily for their credit as prophets, the colored workers are rapidly leaving Virginia for more Southern States, and making room for white labor on the fertile soil of the Old Dominion.

The Hartford (Conn.) Post has the following good take-off on the practice of Democratic politicians in writing letters for publication and signing themselves as persons who have quit the Republican party in disgust: "Good. We recognize the first signs of the coming spring. Not in the fragrant arbutus, not in the springing grass, not in the songs of the birds or the voice of the mud turtle—no, not in nary—but spring cometh. April is at hand, election day approaches, for the old cocky wax who always votes the Republican ticket, and always has, and never voted anything else, but who has seen the error of his ways, and now proposes to vote for the Democratic candidates, wanders into the columns of the Hartford Times, runs his fingers through his silvery tresses, and goes at it again.

MEXICO.

The dispatches give intelligence of a new and formidable uprising in Mexico against the Juarez Government. A pronunciamento has been issued by the insurgents, which embodies a new political plan, in which President Juarez and Cabinet are disowned in the exercise of their executive duties. It is proclaimed in the said plan, the recognition of the Congress of the Union and the Supreme Court of Justice, if these two bodies second the new revolution. The revolutionary plan embraces these features, viz:

1. To call on the people to hold new elections, meanwhile, the destinies of the country will be governed by the most characteristic leader of the army.
2. The Constitution of 1857 will be in force as long as it is not reformed or revoked by the people legally represented.
5. The death penalty for political offences will be abolished, and substituted during the war by filling up the vacancies of the army with the offenders.
6. In the name of the nation amnesty is proclaimed for all political offences which have taken place up to this date, with some exceptions
10. The Governors of States will continue in the exercise of their duties as long as they second this plan.
11. The public debt made from this date, in the sustainment of this political basis, will be paid by the nation in preference to others.
12. The present plan can be regulated according to circumstances.

Such is the substance of the document issued by the leader of that pronunciamento, General Francisco Aguirre and seconded by a great many officers, among them Generals Pedro Martinez and Manuel Larrahaga.

CURRENT NOTES

The members of the New York Typographical Union complain of the manner in which they were treated by the telegraphers during their recent strike, who, having obtained from them a donation of $500, knowing their cause lost, gave up their strike on the very next day.

Doc Piatt, speaking of the reception of Prince Arthur at Washington, says: "We inherited from our ancestor Bull some snobbery, and we have cultivated the article until it overtops the original. The dreariest snob on God's footstool is an American snob. The way in which he bumps his fine and independent skull upon the floor in the presence of a rich man is only excelled by the bumping he gives his sconce in the presence of royalty."

An Iowa editor gets off the following on the death of a fellow editor: "Should we not rejoice that our late friend of the scissors and quill is in Heaven? In that Paradise the cry of 'more copy' will never again fall upon his distracted ears. There his enjoyments will no more be interrupted by the growls of the unreasonable subscriber or the dune of the paper maker. There he will enjoy entire freedom from the detractions and misrepresentations of political opponents and the caresses of ambitious political aspirants. In the blessed abode he is no more to be troubled with illegible manuscript and abominable poetry. No rival editors will there steal his thunder or his items, and typographical errors will know him no more forever."

The Democrats of New York have resolved to do away with the Humane Society and Mr. Bergh. We have been favored with the true reason for this determination. Several Deputy Sheriffs and their friends in New York city are much attached to the noble sport of cockfighting, and Mr. Bergh has interfered with their amusements. Moreover, the hackmen, some of whom are persons entitled to great deference, consider it very hard that they are not allowed to flog their horses to death if they are in the humor. Lastly, the Brooklyn milk dealers have worked, through their allies in the other city, to get rid of a man who has made himself a thorn in their sides. Had not Mr. Bergh better succumb with a good grace before his Democratic masters? He must be extinguished for good political reasons.

Governor Campbell, of Wyoming Territory, who is now in Washington, is the cynosure of the woman franchisers in convention assembled in that city. They dine him, and sup him, and compliment him, until the poor Governor is fain to hide his head in more than maidenly modesty. And well may they make a lion of Governor Campbell. He signed the bill which made the women of Wyoming Territory voters—the bill which made them political equals with men. Nay, it made them superiors. For it allows women to commence voting at eighteen—when they arrive at their legal majority—and makes men wait till they are twenty-one before acquiring the privilege. Moreover, it allows all women residents of the territory, black and white, to vote, whereas, black male residents, we believe, are denied the right, and even white males are subject to certain conditions in regard to length of residence, etc.

LITERARY NOTES.

Lord Campbell considered a good index so essential to every book, that he once proposed to deprive every British author who published a book without one of the privilege of copyright.

In "A Book About Words," by G. F. Graham, the author gives an explanation of the phrase, "Nine Tailors Make a Man." In the olden time the strokes of the passing bell were called "tellers," and as nine strokes indicated the death of a man, while three announced that of a child, and six that of a woman, the words "nine tellers" were easily perverted into nine tailors.

England printed 4,500 new books or new editions of old books, last year, beginning with a thousand theological works, 600 novels, 500 children's books, and 274 of poetry and drama. The most barren month in the year was September, when 249 were published, and the most fertile, December, with 577. The sale of six-penny books in England reached, last year, 90,000; the shilling books 131,000. In one year alone a single house sold 115,550 spelling books at nine pence.

A large and valuable collection of Chinese books, consisting of upwards of 1,100 volumes, has recently been added to the Chinese library at the British Museum. The books were brought to England by Wang Taou, a learned Chinese scholar, who selected them in his native country with the view of their being of assistance to Dr. Legge, the great Sinologue, in translating the Chinese classics, the work on which he is now engaged. As both these gentlemen are about to return to China, the books were offered by them to the trustees of the British Museum, who instantly secured the collection. Being books especially chosen to elucidate the older classical and historical works of China, they are of infinite value to students of Chinese literature.

OREGON.

A Democratic paper to be called the Plaindealer will be issued at Roseburg, Douglas county, in March, William Thornton publisher.

The Common Council of Corvallis have enacted an ordinance forbidding the furnishing of intoxicating liquors to common drunkards.

The Mountaineer says that Mr. Pope contemplates making a tour with the oxy-calcium lantern through some of the principle towns in the Willamet Valley, giving exhibitions for the various Sabbath Schools.

The Polk County Times has changed hands again. J. H. Turner is the present owner. ....An unusually large number of persons at Dallas are sick. Three or four cases are considered hopeless. ......An irate individual entered the editor's sanctum, but departed perfectly satisfied on seeing the editor show fight. His grievance was that the devil had painted his "speckled purp" black.

The Colored Senator from Mississippi.

The Sacramento Union has been at some pains to obtain information in regard to the character, qualifications and antecedents of Hiram R. Revel the colored man recently elected to represent reconstructed Mississippi in the United States Senate. The following is the result:

From the investigations which have been made, it appears that he is a tall, portly man, of light complexion; has benevolent features, a pleasant, musical voice and amiable manners. He is thoroughly respected in the community in which he resides, among the whites as well as by his own people. He was born in freedom, in North Carolina, in 1822. Desirous of an education superior to the station in which he had been placed, he removed to Indiana, and passed two years at the Quaker Seminary in Union county. Subsequently he entered the Methodist ministry; but wishing further to cultivate his mind, he took measures to receive instructions in the De Kalb County Seminary. He then entered more particularly upon the active duties of life—became not only preacher, but teacher and lecturer among his people in the States of Indiana, Illinois, Ohio and Missouri. At the breaking out of the war he was engaged in his ministerial duties at Baltimore. This special employment did not, however, close his eyes to the necessities of his country, for he at once proceeded to aid in the organization of the first two colored regiments in Maryland and Missouri. During a portion of the years 1863 and 1864, he taught school in St. Louis, then went to Vicksburg and assisted the Provost Marshal in managing the affairs of the freedmen. He followed the progress of the army to Jackson, organized churches and lectured in behalf of freedom and reconstruction, giving special attention also to moral and religious subjects. Subsequently to this he spent two years in Kansas and Missouri, engaged in lecturing and preaching, then returned to Mississippi and lived in Natchez, where he was a resident at the period of his election to the position of United States Senator. He was Presiding Elder of his Church for the Southern portion of the State, and since July last served in the City Council of Natchez, and, it is said, with marked ability and honor. Being urged by his friends, he consented to run as a candidate for the State Senate, and was elected. Afterward he was selected as a fitting man to represent in part the State of Mississippi in the Senate of the United States.

The earnings of the Union Pacific Railroad for six months ending December last amounted to $1,611,161 33.

Ex Senator James S. Green, of Missouri, whose death has been recently announced, became during his latter days almost an imbecile through his inordinate appetite for alcoholic liquors. At one period of his Senatorial career he was thought to be a match for Douglas in debate. His fate conveys a warning to our public men.

ARCTIC WHALING. The Honolulu Commercial Advertiser says some of the oldest and most experienced whalemen predict that whaling in the Arctic will not pay more than three or four seasons longer. They say that the last season they never met with an old fashioned bow head of earlier days that used to stow down from 200 to 300 barrels, but that the present voyage will not exceed eighty barrels apiece—young whales. Where are the big ones? The answer is, killed off long ago, and the oil and bone taken to New Bedford. Should the Polar Sea be reached, about which there is so much said, it may be that there will be found the last resort of the poor bow head—his so far safe retreat from the lance of the insatiate whaleman. Walrus appear plentiful this season, and in the earlier part, before the whales made their appearance, a number of ships made a business of taking them for their oil. They make, on an average, twenty five gallons each, and the tusks are worth about twenty-five cents per pound. Polar bears are seen very often, and quite a number are killed for their skins—the only available thing about them.

(Patented December 1st, 1868.)

LEATHER (OUTSIDE) SOLES. IRON CLAD HEELS.

THE USUAL WAY OF NAILING LEATHER SOLES on Rubber Boots makes holes quite through the Soles, which are sure to leak. These Leather Soles are fastened by anchors imbedded in the Rubber when the Boots are made, but do not go through the Soles. The Boots are therefore perfectly Water-Proof, and the Soles can be mended without making them leak. They will wear three or four times longer than the ordinary double-sole Rubber Boots.

In the case of the State of Oregon vs Wm [illegible]ney—grand jury presented an indictment for assault with intent to kill.

GERMAN SCHOOL.—At a meeting of German citizens, held last night at the Council Chamber for the purpose of organizing an "Independent German School," a list of subscription was made up and liberally signed by those present, after which a committee was appointed to canvass the city and vicinity for further subscriptions.

A PIECE OF THE LAST TIE.—Mr. Geo. W. Traver has presented us with a piece of the last tie laid on the Central Pacific Railroad, May 10th, 1869. It will be remembered that the last tie, after being laid down, was again taken up and cut into souvenirs, one of which is the little fragment given us.

SOCIABLE.—The ladies of the First Baptist Church will have a sociable at the basement room of the Church, corner of Alder and Fourth streets. Invitations, as usual, are general.

SNOW.—At Milwaukie, yesterday morning the ground was quite white with snow. The telegraph reports snow at points further south. There was none here.

INTERNAL REVENUE RETURNS.—We observe that the Assessor is reminding people of their duty as tax payers to the Government by distributing blank income returns. The statements required are for the income received in 1869 and the returns should be made by March 1st.

MEDICINES.—Everybody in this world is bring [illegible]. An advertisement in this morning's paper expresses the opinion that the best one to go for is Pratt's Astral Oil. The same authority is rather complimentary to Pratt's "New Life."

[illegible].—On Monday, George Greene, instead of being held to answer before the Grand Jury, as was stated yesterday morning, was discharged from his bonds to appear and held simply to keep the peace for three months.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT, DEADY, J.—Proceedings of Tuesday February 15: Benj. Stark vs Lewis M. Starr—on motion of plaintiffs attorney judgment entered in favor of plaintiff for $1,[illegible] and costs.

ELOQUENT TRIBUTE TO STANTON.—In the course of his eulogy of the late E. M. Stanton before the United States Supreme Court, Attorney General Hoar said:

Mr. Chief Justice, the lesson of this life is a lofty one. The time is soon coming when men will recognize the high natures who in this period of civil strife have arisen above the ordinary level of mankind, and are entitled to their gratitude and honor. Upon those towering peaks in the landscape the eye will no longer discern the little inequalities and roughnesses of surface. Already upon the canvas of history some figures are beginning to emerge. They are not those of self-seekers or those who were greedy of power or place, but the men who in time of public trial and danger, with none but public objects, have done much for their country and mankind. Among them can his cotemporaries fail to discern, and will not posterity surely recognize, the lineaments of Edwin M. Stanton? A restored country is his monument. Nothing can ever cover his high fame but heaven, no pyramids set off his memories but the eternal substance of his greatness, to which I leave him.

The New York Herald is showing up the adulterations in candy manufacture. It finds that the largest ingredient into the adulterous process is terra alba, a species of chalky earth imported from Kentucky, thousands of hogsheads of which are used in New York every year. Its cost is a cent and a quarter a pound, and it is used in place of sugar at 15 cts a pound. Like gypsum, it dries up very quick. It has a sweet taste, and in this regard is a very good substitute for sugar, but its effect upon the system is deleterious, destroying the digestive organs and otherwise injuring the health. Other substances are used, such as starch, glue, glucose and fecula. Verdigris is used coloring green, and red is produced by the sublimate of mercury. In place of licorice lampblack is employed, and the Tonka bean—almost as bad as opium—is substituted for vanilla. To produce flavors of pineapple, raspberry, banana and other fruits, chemically prepared extracts are used, into which not a particle of the juice of these fruits enters, and which are so many poisons introduced into the human stomach.

AMERICAN ENGINEERS IN INDIA.—The Governor-General of India, Lord Mayo, has sent to the United States for an engineer accustomed to the expeditious manner of constructing railways in this country, and at a cost far below that which an English engineer would consider possible. India is yet in want of thousands of miles of railway, and if, by Lord Mayo's experiment, they can be made cheaply, the benefit will be great to all concerned, including English engineers, who may perhaps learn a useful lesson therefrom, and lay down cheap railways in Australia. By the way, Australia is seeking to develop a trade in another kind of live-stock as well as sheep and oxen, and has offered to supply the Indian Government with all the horses required for their army at $25 in gold each.

INCONSISTENCY OF HUMAN NATURE.—There is scarcely anything that a man may not do however inconsistent it may be with his general character, without offending against the laws even of common probability. David betrays Uriah and yet remains the most pious of men. Hector runs away at the mere sight of Achilles and yet remains the bravest. Nero cannot find it in his heart to sign an ordinary death warrant and yet remains the most cruel. Napoleon married his first Empress for love and yet remains the most heartless.—Blackwood's Magazine.

We often hear the question asked of such and such a one—"What is his standing in society?" or "What is his standing in the church, or among business men?" But we never think of asking before we take him into our confidence—"How does he stand at home?" And yet, the man who can make reply to this question with an untroubled heart and a clear conscience, is a hero not so often met with, but that he is worth looking after and closely cultivating.

A Toledo German, who has been keeping a saloon for the accommodation of printers, has been obliged to suspend. On his books were found the following named members of the craft. "Der Lean Brinter," "Der Leetle Brinter," "Der Pen Putler Brinter," "Der Tivel;" "Der Brinter mid der red hair," "Der Brinter mit hair not shoost so red."

A constant friend, tireless servant, ever ready companion, mute [illegible] and reliable assistant—the GROVER & BAKER SEWING MACHINE. Wm. Currier & Co., Agents.

RAILROAD MATTERS are very likely to be lively this spring. The East Side Company will engage a large force of men to complete their road to Albany, and the West Side Company will, very probably, build a portion of their road in order to obtain a land grant to facilitate the building of their line to McMinnville. Kohn & Fishel are keeping up with railroad times. Their stock of spring goods coming across the continent by rail will be the largest and finest stock of Clothing ever imported to this State. Their stock in store now is offered very low to make room for large arrivals. They are manufacturing the neatest Boys' Suits and always have on hand a large stock of the same which are offered at lowest figures.

VALUABLE.—The recent bill before Congress granting aid for the construction of a railroad from the Columbia river to Puget Sound, if passed will make the large tracts of coal and timber lands owned by the Puget Sound Homestead Association on the Skookum Chuck and Newaukum very valuable.

A few shares only remain untaken and can be had at the office of the Secretary or of Mr. Conklin, Canvassing Agent.

It matters not how hard it rains or how gloomy the day is, those beautiful Diamonds, Garnets, Moss Agates and other precious stones, set in fine burnished gold, at B. L. Stone's, gleam and sparkle with rare beauty. And the darker the day and the duller the times the cheaper he sells.

The Season and its Dangers.

The human body is chiefly composed of tissues and fibres as sensitive to every change in the condition of the atmosphere as the most delicate electrometer or the quicksilver in a barometer tube.

The stomach, the skin, the nerves, the lungs, and the excretory organs are especially liable to be affected by these variations, and the best defence against their disastrous tendency is to keep the digestive machinery, which feeds and nourishes the whole system in good working order.

If the stomach is weak or disordered neither the blood nor the bile can be in a healthy state, and for the fitness of these two important fluids for the offices assigned to them by nature, and the regularity of their flow, health in a great measure depends.

When the air is heavily laden with chilling humid vapors, digestion should be an object of peculiar care. If it is weak and languid, the whole physical structure will be enervated. If it is vigorous, the entire organization will be strong to resist the untoward and depressing influence of a damp and vitiated atmosphere.

A pure and powerful tonic is therefore especially needed as a safeguard against the diseases most common in the wet season, and Hostetter's Stomach Bitters being the most wholesome and potent medicine of the class at present known, a course of it is particularly advisable at this time.

The stomach will thereby be toned and strengthened, the liver and bowels regulated, the nervous system braced up, and nature put in a state of active defence against the miasma which superinduces intermittent and remittent fevers, rheumatism, nervous debility, headache, hypochondria and other complaints which are apt to assail the untoned and unfortified organizations. The body is strengthened without exciting the brain, and consequently no unpleasant reaction follows its reviving and renovating operation.

HIRAM SMITH'S

Ophthalmic Panacea!

IS WITHOUT DOUBT THE MOST WONDERFUL EYE HEALER that has yet been discovered.

It CURES the most stubborn and hopeless cases of CHRONIC INFLAMMATIONS, GRANULATED LIDS, FILMS, &c., as has been sufficiently demonstrated during the few months in which it has been brought into public notice. The proprietor is so fully convinced of its INFALLIBILITY that he WARRANTS A CURE OR REFUNDS THE MONEY. It can do the eyes no harm, and a trial of it is therefore without injury or expense to the patient if a cure is not effected.

It has cured cases of FIVE, SIX, NINE, FIFTEEN, and even EIGHTEEN YEARS' standing in Harrisburg, Linn county, Oregon, and its vicinity, to which the following persons will bear witness:

E. B. MOORE,	NATHANIEL BELL,
A. L. WALLACE	G. B. WARD,
Mrs. MONTGOMERY	JOHN M. HOLLOWAY,
W. D. PORTER,	ROB'T RAMSEY,

And others in that vicinity.

Persons afflicted with the distressing scourge of diseased eyes are advised to give this remedy a fair trial on the NO CURE, NO PAY and NO INJURY plan.

We respectfully refer to the following Card.

Having examined the New Patent Sinch or Belly Band Fastener, invented by C. H. Horne, of Astoria, Oregon, we take pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is one of the easiest, quickest and best method of tightening a saddle girth that has ever been in use. It also has an advantage over all others in use in being able to tighten your saddle girth without dismounting.

[illegible] MUTUAL DEBTS [illegible] SET OFF [illegible] ASSIGNEE [illegible]

[illegible] States Circuit Court, District of Oregon

Assignee of Randall & Sunderland, in[illegible] ary bankrupts vs John R. Foster

[illegible]tion was commenced July 26, 1869. The [illegible]t states that on January 9, 1869, pro[illegible] were commenced in this court wherein [illegible]ndall & Sunderland were duly adjudged [illegible]ts, and that plaintiff is the assignee of [illegible]ate, and that the defendant from Janua[illegible] he 30 aforesaid, had the possession of all [illegible] and chattels of said bankrupts and that [illegible]aid period said defendant sold and dis[illegible] parcels of said goods and received sums of [illegible] due said bankrupts, in all to the amount [illegible]74 in gold coin, and paid out of said [illegible] on account of said bankrupts the sum of [illegible] retaining in his possession $597 74 of said [illegible], and that afterward, on July 7, 1869, the [illegible]ff as assignee afforesaid demanded the [illegible] the defendant, and that defendant refused [illegible]er said moneys or any part thereof to the [illegible]f and still detains the same.—Wherefore [illegible]aintiff prays judgment for the delivery of [illegible]oney with interest in coin for the use there[illegible]e rate of ten per centum per annum since [illegible], 1869.

[illegible] answer of the defendant admits the allega[illegible] in the complaint, except that it denies [illegible] defendant received any greater sum than [illegible]73, and avers that he paid out $979 49 [illegible]nies that he retained or still retains any [illegible] sum than $535 24 received by him for [illegible]sold or debts collected, belonging to said [illegible]pts.

[illegible] answer also contains two counter claims [illegible] the defendant offers to set off against the de[illegible] of the plaintiff. The first for the sum of [illegible]0, which the defendant's attorneys demand [illegible] for legal services rendered the defendant [illegible] conducting and settling the business of [illegible]all & Sunderland. The second is also for [illegible]m of $250 for and on account of the services [illegible]endant in and about the management of the [illegible]ess of said Randall & Sunderland.

[illegible] motion the first of these counter claims was [illegible]en out, as it did not appear that the defend[illegible] ever paid the amount to the attorneys, [illegible]nly that they claimed that he was liable [illegible].

[illegible] the second claim the plaintiff replied—deny[illegible] knowledge of defendant's services and that [illegible] were worth $250.

[illegible]o, that on January 9, 1868, Randall and [illegible]erland made an assignment to the defendant [illegible] their goods and effects, under which assign[illegible] the defendant took possession of all the [illegible]erty of said bankrupts, that said assignment [illegible] made in fraud of the bankrupt act and was [illegible]t of bankruptcy upon which said Randall [illegible]nderland were adjudged bankrupts, and that [illegible]dant colluded and conspired with said bank[illegible] in said fraudulent act, and in fraud of the [illegible]rupt act managed the business of the bank[illegible] until enjoined therefrom by the proceedings [illegible]ankruptcy on January 30, 1868.

[illegible]so, that on April 1, 1869, the defendant filed [illegible]im against the estate of the bankrupts for [illegible]ame services, that afterwards certain credi[illegible] of said estate filed objections to said claim [illegible] such proceedings were had thereupon, before [illegible] Register on default of the defendant, that an [illegible]r of this court was made expunging said [illegible]m from the lists of claims upon the assignees [illegible]rd, which order still remains in full force.

[illegible] pursuance of the stipulation of the parties, [illegible] was tried without the intervention of a [illegible] on January 25, and reserved for decision [illegible] the trial the defendant was called as a wit[illegible] by the plaintiff. The only other evidence in[illegible]uced was the argument and the papers and [illegible]eedings in the bankruptcy case.

[illegible]he evidence of the defendant supported his [illegible]wer as to the amount of money received and [illegible] out by him on account of the bankrupts, [illegible]ing his possession of the goods, and as [illegible]thing was shown or appears to the contrary, [illegible] fact must be found accordingly.

[illegible]f the money so paid out, as it appears from [illegible] not stated by the defendant, which is a [illegible]t of his testimony, there was paid to Sunder[illegible]d, one of the bankrupts, on January 30, the [illegible]s of $21 50 and $31. On account of these [illegible]ments being made to the bankrupt, the plaint[illegible] objects to their being treated and considered [illegible]ayments on account of the estate.

[illegible]ccording to the testimony of the defendant [illegible] payments [illegible] under these circum[illegible]nces. The business of the bankrupts consisted [illegible] retail boot and shoe shop, and some manu[illegible]turing up stairs, with a stock of about $14,[illegible]. The defendant had the general superintend[illegible]e of the business and employed Sunderland to [illegible] the manufacturing at $75 per month, [illegible]d him come on tag from time to time, amount[illegible] in all to the sum of the two payments, which [illegible] afterwards charged on January 30, and that [illegible] wages were less than a person not interested [illegible]ld be obtained for.

[illegible]he fact of the payments, is in effect, denied in [illegible] pleadings, but on the trial, the objection in[illegible]ed upon, was the illegality of paying money to [illegible] of the bankrupts. But I do not perceive that [illegible] employment of Sunderland on fair terms to [illegible] what was necessary and convenient to be done [illegible]ut the business, is in any way contrary to law [illegible] good morals. Indeed, I suppose the defendant [illegible]ght have returned, at any time prior to the in[illegible]ction, to R. & S., all the property he receiv[illegible] from them under the void assignment. Much [illegible]re, it seems to me, might he pay S. reasonable [illegible]ges for work and labor performed about the [illegible]iness and property while under his charge. [illegible] any view of the matter, the defendant is only [illegible]ble to the plaintiff for what came into his hands [illegible] or through the bankrupts, and was not re[illegible]ed to them or their representative—the as[illegible]nee in bankruptcy. The question is, was the [illegible] ment or delivery of the $52 50 actually made [illegible]. prior to the service of the injunction upon [illegible] defendant on January 30, or not. If made [illegible]r the service of the injunction—being in such [illegible] made in violation of it—I suppose it would be [illegible]ongful and the defendant would still be liable [illegible] the amount.

[illegible]ut, as has been suggested, the fact of the pay[illegible]nts having been made as alleged, was not seri[illegible]ly contested on the trial. The testimony of [illegible] defendant is direct and positive to that effect, [illegible] it must be considered proven. This shows [illegible] the defendant has only $532 24 in his hands [illegible]onging to the estate of R. & S.

[illegible] he entitled to set off his claim for services [illegible]ainst a like amount of this sum?

[illegible]he plaintiff's objection to the allowance of [illegible] set off has been stated in his replication [illegible]m the evidence it appears that the defendant [illegible]t into possession and control of the goods and [illegible]iness of R. & S. on January 10, 1869, under [illegible] assignment to himself, which was afterwards, [illegible]nsly, on February 27, adjudged void by this [illegible]rt, as being a fraud upon the B. Act, and an [illegible] of bankruptcy, and that he continued in such [illegible]session and control and managed and conduc[illegible] said property and business, under said assign[illegible]nt until enjoined by this court, on January 30 [illegible]reafter.

[illegible]s to the alleged conspiracy and collusion be[illegible]en the defendant and R. and S., there is no [illegible]ect proof. But from the circumstances shown [illegible] inference is reasonable that the defendant ac[illegible] the assignment and went into possession [illegible]der it with a knowledge of the facts which in [illegible]templation of law made such assignment [illegible]udulent and an act of bankruptcy—namely, that [illegible] and S. were insolvent and were by that means [illegible]empting to dispose of their property with intent [illegible]defeat and delay the operation of the B. Act.

[illegible]n account of this knowledge the plaintiff [illegible]ims that the defendant is not entitled to any [illegible]ng for his services under this illegal assign[illegible]nt, and that if he is, he should be required to [illegible]ove his debt and take his pro rata with the [illegible]er creditors, and not receive his pay in full by [illegible]ng allowed it as a set off against the money of [illegible] estate in his hands.

[illegible]he questions made by the objection of the [illegible]intiff are not free from doubt.

[illegible]y Section 20 of the B. Act it is provided [illegible]hat in all cases of mutual debts or mutual [illegible]edits between the parties, the account between [illegible]m shall be stated and one debt set off against [illegible] other and the balance only shall be allowed [illegible] paid, but no set off shall be allowed of a claim [illegible]ts nature not provable against the estate; [illegible]ovided, That no set off shall be allowed in fa[illegible] of any debt, or to the bankrupt of a claim [illegible]rchased by or transferred to him after the filing [illegible] the petition."

[illegible]his is the only provision in the B. Act touch[illegible] the subject of set off and it is substantially the [illegible]me as that contained in 6 G. 4, C. 16, Sec. 50. [illegible]t the English Act further provides that such set [illegible] may be made "notwithstanding any prior act [illegible] bankruptcy committed by the bankrupt before [illegible] credit given or debt contracted by him * * *, Provided, That the person claiming the [illegible]nefit of such set off, had not when such credit [illegible]s given notice of an act of bankruptcy by such [illegible]nkrupt committed."

[illegible]ut for this proviso it seems to have been [illegible]ldon in the English Courts that a debtor to a [illegible]nkrupt could only be called upon to pay the [illegible]lance after deducting what the bankrupt owed [illegible]m, whether the credit was given to such bank[illegible]pt after notice of an act of bankruptcy commit[illegible]d by him or not. (1 Dec. Ab. 54.)

[illegible]his proviso not being in our act, nor any [illegible]uivalent of it in legal effect, I conclude upon [illegible]s authority and indeed upon general princi[illegible]s, that although the defendant had notice of the act of bankruptcy committed by R. and S. when he rendered his services, he is entitled to set off the value of the same against what was then or their assignee's [illegible] the transaction amounts to a case of mutual credit between the parties and the defendant's claim in its nature is provable against the estate.

The term in Credits in the B. Acts is more comprehensive than the term mutual debts in the statute set off. The term credits is synonymous with trust and the trust or credit need not be of money on both sides. If one party so trusts the other with [illegible] it will be a case of mutual credit (7 Dac. Ab. 10.)

By section 42 of the B. Act of Apr 4, 1800, when a mutual credit was given before a party became bankrupt a set off was allowed between the parties. Under this act it was decided that where the acceptor of a bill of exchange paid it after bankruptcy of the drawer he might set off the amount of the same in an action by the assignee of the drawer for the value of certain goods consigned to the acceptor after the acceptance and by him converted into money before the bankruptcy. This was held to be a case of mutual credit before the bankruptcy although the defendant did not pay debt set off until after the bankruptcy, and although under that act the debts for that reason, could not have been proved against the estate. (Wash. C. C. R. 175.)

In the case of Rose vs. Hart (8 Taun. 499, cited 1 Dac. Ab. 55) it was ruled that where cloth was deposited with a fuller to dress by a party who afterwards became bankrupt that there was a case of mutual credit to the value of the services for dressing the cloth but not for a general balance due from the bankrupt, and in that case the general rule was laid down that the credits intended by the Act were only such "as must in their very nature terminate in cross debts, as where a debt is due from one party and credit given by him on the other, for a sum of money payable at a future day and which will then become a debt, or when there is a debt on one side and a delivery of property with directions to turn it into money on the other, but where there is a mere deposit of property without authority to turn it into money, no debt can ever arise out of it and therefore it is not a credit within the meaning of the statute."

Within the rule laid down by these authorities there can be no doubt but that this was a case of mutual credit—at least to the value of the defendant's services. The defendant received the goods and accounts and undertook in the course of the business to convert them into money. His skill and labor in this respect have some value. R. and S. credited—trusted—him with the property and with the money he might realize from it and the defendant credited them for his services—yet to be rendered. Therefore the credits were mutual—and were also such credits as must result in cross debts.

The debt of the defendant is also provable under the act. Section 9 provides: "That all debts due and payable from the bankrupt, at the time of the adjudication in bankruptcy and all debts then existing but not payable until a future day, a rebate of interest being made when no interest was payable by the terms of the contract, may be proved against the estate of the bankrupt."

In the case under consideration the adjudication was made on February 27, and on January 30, the debt due the defendant for his services was both due and payable, and if it had then only existed, but been payable at a future day, it would have still have been provable.

What is the value of the services. In his answer the defendant claims that they are worth $250 in coin. On April 1, 1869, he swore to the proof of debt before the Register for these same services, in which he stated that R. and S. were justly indebted to him on that account "in the sum of $125 * * * for labor and services * * from January 9, 1869 to January 30, at the rate of $200 per month in legal tender." At that time $125 in currency was about equal to $100 in coin. On the trial the defendant being asked, by his counsel if $250 in coin was a reasonable compensation for his services, did not answer yes or nay, but said—"I don't think it very extravagant." The service was a general superintendence of a retail boot and shoe shop for 20 days with the assistance of Sunderland one of the former proprietors and assignors.

I think $5 per day in coin a fair compensation. That is what the defendant estimated the value of his services at, in his proof of debt before the Register last April, and no reason is shown for the increase of 150 per centum since that time.

Allowing the defendant a set off of $100 in coin and deducting that sum from the debt due the plaintiff, leaves the sum of $423 24. Add to this interest on the same since July 7—seven months—makes $458 68,—which is the sum due the plaintiff in coin.

But the plaintiff also objects to the allowance of this set off, on the ground of an adverse prior adjudication as set forth in his replication.

"The facts concerning the matter are these. On April 1, 1869, the defendant proved a debt for these services of the sum of $125 in legal tender. On objection by some of the creditors and a motion to expunge the claim from the list of proven debts, the matter was referred by the court to the Register. In the mean time, it may be presumed that the defendant acting upon the advice of his counsel, concluded not to press his claim to payment by the assignee, but to rely upon having it allowed in full as a set off against the sum then in his hands belonging to the estate,—at least he did not appear before the Register but allowed the matter to go by default. Thereupon the Register reported as a conclusion of fact that said claim was for services rendered under a fraudulent and void deed of assignment to the defendant, and as a conclusion of law that it ought not to be allowed. Upon motion, and without argument, there being no opposition, on August 16, this court confirmed this report and made an order expunging the claim from the list of debts. There the matter rested until the plaintiff brought this action when the defendant pleaded the claim as a set off.

Before proceeding to consider whether that order amounts to a final judgment against the claim of the defendant, it is proper to state, that the conclusion of the Register against the legality of the claim was predicated upon the case of [illegible] vs. Yates, 4 Ed. Ch., cited in 5 Abb. Dig. 273 as deciding—That where a trust deed is pronounced void, as being contrary to law, the trustee cannot be allowed any compensation for services under it. Upon the strength of this authority, this court made the order of August 16, rejecting the claim. I now think that order was erroneous, and upon examination of the original report of the case of [illegible] vs. Yates, I find that it does not decide any such thing as stated in the digest.

These services were rendered by the defendant at the request of R. & S., before the petition filed in bankruptcy and unless there is some established rule of law or positive statute prohibiting the payment or allowance of such a claim, I cannot now see upon what ground the right to have it allowed as a set off is to be denied. If the defendant had notice of the act of bankruptcy—as I presume he had—under the B. Act of 6 G. 4, the claim could neither have been proved against the estate or allowed as a set off in an action by the assignee, but there is no such provision in the American act and the court must administer the law as it finds it.

I have come to the conclusion that the order rejecting the claim of the defendant is not such an adjudication as prevents the defendant from pleading it as a set off in this action. The provisions of the B. Act bearing upon the question are substantially as follows:

Section 22 provides for each creditor's making proof of his debt and presenting the same to the assignee. It also gives the district court power "to reject all claims not duly proved or where the proof shows the claim to have been founded in fraud, illegality or mistake." Section 8 gives the right of appeal from this District to the Circuit Court to any supposed creditor whose claim is wholly or in part rejected. Section 24 enacts in effect that such supposed creditor upon entering such appeal in the Circuit Court shall file a pleading as plaintiff in an action at law containing a statement of his claim and thereafter the controversy shall proceed to determination as an ordinary action at law.

Taken together these provisions of the act amount to this and nothing more:

A creditor cannot demand payment of his debt until he makes and presents to the assignee the proper proof thereof. This provision is analogous in purpose to the proceeding to the probate of debts against the estate of a decedent before being presented to or allowed by the administrator. When there is [illegible] parties interested may object to the claim and the Court—the District Judge without a jury in a summary manner may reject the claim as not being duly proved or as being founded in fraud, illegality or mistake. Then and not before the supposed creditor may bring action in the Circuit Court against the assignee and have his right to payment regularly tried. But his action can only be maintained by the creditors first taking an appeal from the order rejecting his claim. This appeal must be taken within a limited time in a particular manner and to a particular court. The right to sue the assignee is postponed and limited to the happening and performance of these precedent circumstances and conditions. But they are not adjudications but only proceedings preliminary to adjudication. But suppose the assignee to bring an action upon a demand due the bankrupt cannot the defendant plead a set off to more or less of such demand although the same has not been proved and presented to the assignee and rejected by the Judge and appeal taken to the Circuit Court. It seems to me that he can. The cross demand of the defendant in such case is proved on the trial or it will not be allowed.

It cannot be stated above from 1 Wash. [illegible] is an [illegible] where a party was at [illegible] under the B. A. [illegible] had had a claim as a set off which [illegible] reason he could not have maintained an action to recover.

[illegible] because the defendant not having brought his action in the Circuit Court within the term prescribed after the rejection of his claim has lost his right to maintain [illegible] upon [illegible]. Notwithstanding this I think the better [illegible] is that he may still plead it as a set off by way of defence to an action by the assignee. On the other hand it may be said that a party who elects to prove and obtain his demand in the mode prescribed in Sections 22, 24 and [illegible] must pursue that mode to the end, and if he fails or neglects to do so, cannot afterwards have the same tried and allowed as a set off. Not that the order of rejection is an adjudication between the parties in any proper sense of that term, but that the party having elected to obtain his demand in that way is precluded from litigating it in any other. There is force in this argument. On this point I am not confident that my conclusion is the proper one and the question may be considered an open one in this Court, if parties wish to be heard upon it in any case that may arise hereafter.

The set off of the defendant to the amount of $100 in coin will be allowed and the plaintiff must have judgment for $458 68 in coin with costs and expenses of the action.

DEADY, J.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

PORTLAND, Feb 16, 1870.

N[illegible] gold [illegible] to-day.

Portland Legal Tender rates to-day selling 83 [illegible].

Quotations in the general merchandise market are same as yesterday. There is general complaint that trade is discouragingly dull and it is a fact which cannot be disguised that we have rarely ever had an open winter when there was so little doing outside of the regular routine of produce shipments. One of the most apparent causes of the stagnation of business is the uncertainty in regard to the cost of goods in the spring including the purchase price at the East and the charges for freight. It has also [illegible] be pretty well understood that the [illegible] of Eastern dealers brought about by the Pacific railroad will inevitably bring with it an enlargement of our legal tender and bank note circulation, thus bringing our business transactions down more nearly to the level of the basis of the Eastern States. This brings us of course [illegible] the eve of a transition state not only in regard to currency but in regard to the modes and terms of trade. As the changes in both respects are inevitable notwithstanding the opposition which may be made by the heavy importers common sense would seem to dictate that the sooner the change is made the better, and that resistance can only prolong an unprofitable state of things. The general adoption of currency as the money of the country would at once put business upon an [illegible] basis for all concerned. The importers who refuse to accept the situation, and cling to coin trades exclusively will find their business usurped in a year or two, by men who have not now a dollars interest in Oregon nor on the Pacific coast.

We have nothing new in the local produce market beyond the fact that the supply of butter and eggs is being enlarged by fresh arrivals each day. Prices are already lower than they have touched for many months.

The Montana, which sailed at 4 o'clock this evening carried about 850 tons produce. Beyond this there is on the P. T. Co.'s dock and in warehouse a large amount which awaits shipment with some impatience.

Our produce dealers are unable to report any improvement in flour and profess to see no better prospect for the future.

The telegraph reports an advance at Liverpool in wheat from our last quotation to 8s 11d@9s on the 14th.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies, see that they are cured for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his special study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them for delay obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity to any part of the country with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders [illegible] self-styled doctors [illegible] are tradesmen and became too lazy to work [illegible] will not find their Medical Diploma [illegible] is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets [illegible] safely in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. What the Hon. W. T. Ballou says about the King of Pain.

SAN FRANCISCO Dec. 7, 1868.

Dr. J. J. McBride—Having suffered with sciatic rheumatism some months I was induced to use your King of Pain. I take pleasure in recommending it to those afflicted with rheumatism. I know of several cases of neuralgia that have been cured by using it.

W. T. BALLOU, of Elko, Nevada.

Card from Harbor Master.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2, 1869.

To Dr. McBride—This is to certify that I have been troubled with neuralgia in my right arm and hand for the past three months, and although I have had medical advice and tried a number of remedies, none has relieved me until I tried Dr. McBride's King of Pain," which has done me more good than all the other remedies I have tried.

DR. J. J. M'BRIDE,

TELLS YOUR DISEASE WITHOUT ASKING ANY QUESTIONS!

A CARD.

SAN FRANCISCO Oct 16, 1869.

DR. McBRIDE—My Dear Sir: For the last six or seven years I have been afflicted with rheumatic pains from my knees down, embracing all the joints of ankle and toes. These pains have come upon me periodically every year about this season of the year. My knees and ankles, and toe joints and my wrists and finger joints would swell and leave me in the most agonizing pain, known only to those who have suffered from this dread malady. These pains would continue for a period of from three to four months every year, and they have been regular, unfailing annual visitors. I have been accustomed to apply for relief to the best citizens of San Francisco, and have not failed to use all the popular remedies known to the public. I would sometimes receive temporary relief after long continued application but it would never fail to return in a few days with increased severity.

About two weeks ago while my pains were upon me I saw you at the corner of one of our streets, and heard what you said about your "King of Pain." I confess that I listened to you with deep distrust; indeed, I may say that I did not believe your statements. "Still," thought I, "it's only a dollar, and I'll patronize the 'humbug' one dollar's worth." I bought a bottle and tried it first on my knee, which was fearfully swollen, and from which I suffered very severely. The second night I tried it again, and my dear Doctor you can judge of my surprise, ecstacy and delight all gotten when I found on rising the second morning that my pains were entirely gone, and the swelling entirely disappeared. My knees [illegible] were as supple as when I was young. I actually danced with delight, much to the amusement of my friends who had been in the habit of regarding me as a decrepid old rheumatic. It has now been two weeks, and I have not felt the least symptom of return. I believe I am cured and I feel so grateful to you that I offer you this statement, verified by my oath, to be used by you in whatever way you may think proper and I feel it a duty to let others similarly afflicted know where they can find relief.

I am yours, very truly, RAPHAEL LOOKAYSE.

State of California city and county of San Francisco. On this 16th day of October 1869 personally appeared before me, a Justice of the Peace in and for the city and county of San Francisco aforesaid Raphael Lookayse known to me to be the person who signed the foregoing letter, and who being by me duly sworn, deposes and says the contents thereof are true.

T. W. TALIAFERRO, Justice of the Peace.

TO THE PUBLIC.

Grateful for the eminent services of Dr. J. J. McBride I cheerfully make a statement of the following facts. For twelve months I had suffered from prostration of my nervous system resulting in partial paralysis and almost total loss of sight. A score of physicians had almost given my case as hopelessly incurable. I had even heard my days numbered by doctors and friends. In the agonies of my neuralgia pain I sought the great King of Pain. Under that benign effect, to the half hour I had obtained more medical aid than I had known for long, weary months. My sight was so much restored that I could read print although I had needed a guide to find Dr. McBride's office an hour before. Before leaving him I had regained the use of my almost palsied limbs and seemingly my strength had returned, while all the aches and pains my constant [illegible] were fast lifted and gone. It is now [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

My residence is in Reading [illegible] business at [illegible] Cambridge street [illegible] interests [illegible]

P. S. I have [illegible] years. [illegible]
